day, indicating an abandonment by the Democrats of all serious hope of carrying Maine in the preliminary contest on September 18th is noteworthy, chiefly as and-closing the low state of the Democratic campaign funds. The chances have in-deed been, from the beginning, against the success of the Hancock party in Maine. Still the battle was worth fighting if the party had possessed the "sinews of war," which it could afford to expend for re-ducing the Republican majority in the State which holds the first important elec-tion of the year.

State which holds the first important elec-tion of the year.

The practical abandonment of the con-test within two weeks of the election proves that such "barrels" as have been apped do not flow freely, and that the Democrats being able to collect but little money for campaign purposes, are com-pelled to contract their field of operations. They are withdrawing money and speak-ers for concentration in Indiana, a more vital point, which they cannot afford to loae. If their resources were not stinted

It remains to be seen whether the Democratic defeat in Maine will impair the chances of the party in Indiana, where a defeat would be more discouraging, if not

Second—If I did stand as a candidate men would talk about my changing ideas, and the result would be injurious to the united party. Let me fight one year in the ranks, or three or four or fire years, if necessary. One other reason I will state to you, for a year or two I have sought by the aid of the Democratic party to reform abuses in the State. A portion of Democrats for honest reasons have apposed this use of the Democratic party, but I trust they have done so with no considerable amount of bitterness. I have learned that it is impossible to accomplish the work in view without the united Democracy, and nutil the party moved by the work in view without the united Democracy, and until the party moved by the principles of Jefferson and Haucock, presents a solid front to the opposition. There were some feelings in these contests, but they have passed away from my mind and I hope that they will pass away from others. I will never do anything while can bring them back again. You have many good men iselections to go with the name of Haucock. I shall not be your candidate.

The question then recurred on the mo

flon to go into ballot for a candidate for Governor.

Pending the counting of the ballots Col. Isaac Hull Wright, of Boston, moved that General Butler be invited to address the convention, a speech having been expected from him, he having only thus far spoken upon a question of business.

A point was raised that the motion was not in order, which was sustained by the chair, who, however, stated it was competent for the convention to suspend the rules and extend this invitation if it chose.

There were calls of "Mr. Chairman," all over the house, and Mr. Collins was forced to pound with his gavel and demand order, with great emphasis. In a clevy

There was quite a blocksde of towboats at this point last evening. Two small boats, whose names could not be ascertained in the darkness, grounded in the channel east of where the Panther and tow are lying, and completely shut off alpassage for tows. The Neille Walton, shengal Tiger, John Gilmore, Coal Valley, and five or six other boats, with tows, are consequantly obliged to tie up here, and the entire fleet will be compelled to do likewise upon its arrival, unless the rise lets the stuck boats off sooner.

Captain W. H. Moore brought his new boat, the William Kraft, down from McKeesport yesterday alternoon. She was profusely decked off with bauting and presented a very handsome appearance.
